Two Suppliers Recognized By Eaton Law Department As Supplier Diversity Excellence Award Winners

CLEVELAND ... Diversified industrial manufacturer Eaton Corporation honored two law firms for their strong commitment to diversity as part of the Eaton Law Department's supplier recognition program. The two firms were chosen for the Supplier Diversity Excellence Award from a select group of firms.

The two law firms receiving Supplier Diversity Excellence Awards are Cooper & Walinski, a firm headquartered in Toledo, Ohio, with 30 lawyers and Baker & Hostetler, with nearly 600 lawyers with offices in California, Colorado, District of Columbia, Florida, Illinois, Ohio, New York and Texas. The firms will be recognized at a special event in Cleveland in September.

"Both firms have been outstanding in working with us towards our diversity goals," said Mark M. McGuire, executive vice president and general counsel, Eaton Corporation. "Additionally, they embody the spirit of diversity in the legal community."

Eaton Corporation is a diversified power management company with 2009 sales of $11.9 billion. Eaton is a global technology leader in electrical components and systems for power quality, distribution and control; hydraulics components, systems and services for industrial and mobile equipment; aerospace fuel, hydraulics and pneumatic systems for commercial and military use; and truck and automotive drivetrain and powertrain systems for performance, fuel economy and safety. Eaton has approximately 70,000 employees and sells products to customers in more than 150 countries. For more information, visit www.eaton.com.
